

REQUEST FOR PROPOSALS

Bijou Park Mural Project
Wilmington, North Carolina

Deadline for Applications: January 1, 2023

Vision:

The newly renovated Bijou Park in downtown Wilmington, NC offers an exciting opportunity to enhance the pocket park and streetscape along North Front Street with a new large-scale mural that harkens back to the site's early days as a theater. Proposed as "The Last Piece of the Park", the winning design will energize the site by highlighting its heritage and history while providing an attractive backdrop in the central business district.

The mural will take up the entire stucco wall facing Bijou Park at 221 N. Front St., providing visual stimulation for the park's mid-block connection to Wilmington's riverfront. See the attached visual for area and available dimensions of mural.

The Arts Council of Wilmington & New Hanover County (the Arts Council) is interested in receiving applications from artists with experience and interest in collaborative, community-based mural projects that build social ties, represent diversity, and/or develop a sense of communal ownership of public spaces.
